About LiveHealth

LiveHealth is a leading healthcare IT company changing the way healthcare is delivered. Disconnected experience is one of the biggest problem in healthcare industry & the existing contemporary IT solutions make it even more evident. LiveHealth aims to solve this by building an ecosystem of applications specially designed for each stakeholder - doctors, providers & patients.

We thrive to deliver the best connected experience through our products by bringing the eco-system experience in healthcare, where health providers and customers are connected on a single platform.

To do this, we work with healthcare providers in the most consolidated manner, by understanding their process where technology can help them best, and how patient experience can be improved.
